

Assumptions

- 1) each member can only have one account, and each account can only be owned by one member
- 2) each order must be placed by only one member and each member may place one or more orders